

As we finish the Yom Tov of Sukos let us take away from it the lesson it conveys: Bitachon! As the Akeidas Yitzchak (67:8,9) writes: On Sukos Hashem tells us, “Come take shelter in My shadow so that it will established in your heart the truth... for in truth the one who sits under the cover of the One above and in the shade of the Almighty is the one who lives a secure life, a happy life, a joyful life, and a life free of toil and preoccupation under the yoke of temporary issues without ultimate self-benefit. As we have stated, a good and sweet life.”

By focusing on this we will merit just such a life!
